

Tregullas Farm, Lighthouse Road, The lizard, Cornwall, TA12 7NL

A day at Tregullas is a fun filled and busy one which can be altered for you depending on your curriculum requirements. The 250-acre farm is run by the Amis Family and is the most Southerly farm in mainland Britain and producing award winning eggs and meat.

There are cows and sheep to meet who are accompanied by their calves and lambs during the spring months. May farm walks where you can choose activities such as pond dipping, bug hunting, habitats and see the wildflower fields. Or you can meet some geography points and look at maps, see the light house even draw some seascapes which surround the majority of the farm. There are crafts that can be done like making seed bombs or birds or maybe try your hand at felting some wool. If your more interested in food then we can arrange things like bread making or you could turn your hand to planting some vegetables followed by a visit to the farm shop to get a real sense of the field to plate journey.

We can also visit you in school prior, after or throughout the year to do some assemblies and workshops

Assemblies	Workshops
Where your breakfast comes from Countryside Code Seasons Harvest Where your Christmas Dinner comes from Work life on the farm Food miles The History of Farming (KS2) The importance of pollination Evolution and Inheritance (KS2) Food and Farming Different types of farming Farm Animals	Healthy Living Food miles Countryside Code Seasonal Changes Animals and their habitats The History of Farming Evolution and Inheritance

A tour day last 10am – 2pm and costs £30. Ideally, we would take groups of 30 but larger groups can be arranged.

Workshops in school are £30 but 3 a day can be held and assemblies are free.

For more information please contact dani@farmLink.org.uk 01278 655071

